

Group 2

Part 1: Scenario

You are a film studies major and you want to explore the topic of literary adaptations in film. You want to cut right to the chase...

- 1) The film O Brother Where Art Thou? (2000) was based on a book, can you find the name of the title of that book?
- 2) You're interested in process of screenwriting, so you have the film and the book. What else can you find using the subject guide that will help you make a comparative analysis?

Part 2: Both Groups

- 1) How did you go about finding your information?
- 2) Do you find these subject guides useful? and would you use them to conduct your own research?
- 3) What do you feel is particularly effective about subject guides you used on the U of Rhode Island web site?
- 4) What other types of information would make these subject guides more useful for film students at the University of Rhode Island?
